Category:Archives in Albania Category:Librarians Category:Archives in AlbaniaQ: How to update a list in a class which is a property of another class I have a class in which I have 3 properties -names, value and list(another class object). Now I want to have a method which takes the values as a string as an argument and updates the value of my list in the class I have. Thanks in advance. A: In your Student class

public List StudentNames

And then a method in your StudentName class (I will assume these methods are static public void

AddStudentName(string name) { StudentNames.Add(new StudentName(name)); } public void RemoveStudentName(string name) { StudentNames.Remove(new StudentName(name)); }

Q: Hide default arrow in UISearchBar I found this post that showed how to change the color of the default arrow in a UISearchBar, however, I would like to know if there is a way to hide it. I'm using a storyboard and I'm trying to do this programmatically. Any ideas? Thanks. A: You can disable search bar scrolling by setting following property of search bar. `searchDisplayController.searchResultsUpdater = self` Additionally, you can prevent that default arrow from appearing, by setting following property of search bar. searchDisplayController.searchBar.showsCancelButton = NO; The following is a draft of the memcon that is to be distributed to the traders on Wednesday's conference call. I wanted to take a moment to go through it and make any final changes. I'll be back in touch with you tomorrow. Andy > Andrew S.
